

Timeless Residences

BETA-PLUS

Tamarama Beach, Sydney (Australia)

THE CARLISLE

Penman Brown is a Sydney-based design practice, established by Principal Megan Brown in 2011, offering interior architecture and design with a focus on client collaboration and authenticity.

Megan and her team of designers and architects at Penman Brown collaborate with clients to develop elegant, carefully-crafted environments. Marrying the contemporary with the timeless and the spontaneous with the refined, they create nuanced homes of understated luxury for their clients.

The meticulous architectural detailing of Megan's interiors, enriched by layers of the eclectic and distinctive, combined with the teams specialization in custom furnishings and cabinetry, elevates residences from the ordinary to the exceptional.

Strong relationships with a select network of builders, craftsmen, artisans and unique local and international suppliers allow a projects creative vision to be executed seamlessly from design to construction. Attention to detail ensures a smooth process from initial consultation and concept through to build completion and the styling of each individual space.

Penman Brown has established a reputation as one of the leading interior architecture and design studios working in Australia today. The studio regularly features in Australian and International publications and is regularly recognised in prominent industry awards.

'The Carlisle', Tamarama by Penman Brown is a luxury residence layered into the hills hovering over Tamarama Beach in Sydney Australia. Exuding a dream like quality it is connected to the simpler romance of the past while assuredly racing forward into the future.

Furnishings are paired back yet sculptural, dressed in a luxe smoky palette of dense and velvety textures, all is punctuated with architectural layers of natural stones and a precisely edited palette of organic materials that connects to the deeply natural surrounds. Refined detailing and unique custom pieces are framed by design icons to create a unique story that is chic, sophisticated yet low key and irresistibly serene.

www.penmanbrown.com

Photography: Anson Smart - Styling: Studio CD

